NEW YORK LIBERTY ANNOUNCES 2008 PRE-SEASON GAME

NEW YORK, N.Y. [February 20, 2008] – New York Liberty President and General Manager Carol Blazejowski announced today that the team will host Eastern Conference rival, the Washington Mystics, at Madison Square Garden on Thursday, May 8 at 11:00 a.m.

This pre-season match up also marks the Liberty's third annual School Day game. The game will offer local schools and community groups the opportunity to bring its students to an affordable and educational outing at the "The World's Most Famous Arena." More information about School Day game tickets can be found on NYLiberty.com or by calling 212-465-6080.

Head coach Pat Coyle and the Liberty will tip off the regular season in front of The Garden crowd versus the Connecticut Sun on Sunday, May 18 at 4:00 p.m. Season ticket and group plans are currently available by calling 212-465-6073 or visiting NYLiberty.com. Individual game tickets for the 2008 season will be available for purchase in the early spring.

The New York Liberty basketball team, in its twelfth year of operation with the 2008 season, is a part of Madison Square Garden, L.P., owned by Cablevision Systems Corporation, and also includes the New York Knicks (NBA); the New York Rangers (NHL); the Hartford Wolf Pack (American Hockey League); MSG Entertainment, which includes concerts and events at Radio City Music Hall, Madison Square Garden, The WaMu Theater at Madison Square Garden, and the Beacon Theatre; MSG Media, which is comprised of MSG and FSN New York; fuse, the music television network; and the Madison Square Garden arena complex, located in the heart of the New York metropolitan area.
