TONIGHT IS INSPIRING WOMEN NIGHT

LAST TIME OUT – AUG. 23 VS. WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP) On a night when it would have been understandable if her game was off, Candace Parker proved to be the difference maker.

Parker scored 19 points, including the go-ahead basket with 38.9 seconds remaining in overtime, to help the Los Angeles Sparks beat the Washington Mystics 86-82 on Tuesday night.

Tina Thompson finished with 15 points and 10 rebounds for the Sparks (12-15), winners of two straight and three of five since Parker returned from a torn lateral meniscus in her right knee on August 16.

"We started off very well and then we didn't play well," said Parker, who scored 14 points in the second half and also finished with nine rebounds and five assists. "It was a game of lead changes and runs. We were able to come out on top. It was an ugly game, very ugly."

The Sparks scored the game's first seven points and led 53-41 in the third quarter, only to watch the Mystics rally. The lead changed six times in the extra session, the final time coming when Parker slithered through the defense for a layup to put the Sparks ahead 81-80.

"When the game is tight, (Parker) takes it upon herself to put the team on her shoulders and score," said Mystics forward Nicky Anosike, Parker's teammate at the University of Tennessee. "I wasn't surprised by that, but that's when you really have to step up the D."

Matee Ajavon missed a layup on the Mystics next possession before Parker and Thompson combined to sink five of six free throws to seal the victory. The Sparks finished 18 of 26 from the free throw line.

"We started making some free throws down the stretch and got some big defensive stops a couple time, that was big," said Sparks coach Joe Bryant.

Crystal Langhorne scored 28 points and Ajavon added 14 for the Mystics (5-21), who have lost a season-high six straight games.

Parker played the game after learning earlier on Tuesday that her college coach Pat Summitt had been diagnosed with early onset dementia.

"We just have mad love for coach Summitt and we're a family, we're going to have to deal with it," said a stoic Parker. "I don't think she is going to let it affect her. I think she is going to continue on coaching as long as she can. She came out with (the news) and now we're going to move forward."

Anosike, who scored five points in 19 minutes, was somber in the losing locker room. She said the two players learned of the news this morning and then spoke after the game.

"I think we're both a little messed up by it," Anosike said.

Bryant, unaware of Summitt's condition until asked by a reporter to comment about Parker's performance under the circumstances, said the All-Star forward is rounding back into shape after missing 15 games.

"No matter how much training you do or therapy you do, it's still different than running up and down the court," Bryant said. "She is starting to get her legs under her and her wind. She's a special player."

Parker scored 10 consecutive points, seven coming after halftime, and the Sparks opened the second half with a 12-4 run for their largest lead of the game. The Mystics broke off a 13-2 spurt to go up 65-64 with 5:16 remaining.

The Mystics defeated the Sparks in Los Angeles 89-85 on July 17, rallying with a 24-point comeback in the second half. Since then the losses have mounted - 11 in 13 games.

SPARKS VS. MYSTICS GAME NOTES

- Candace Parker scored in double-digits for the 32ND consecutive time.
- Tina Thompson became the fifth Spark to notch a double-double this season.
- Four Sparks players scored in double figures.
- DeLisha Milton-Jones collected a season-high five steals (previously three) and Parker blocked a season-high five shots (previously three) in their win over the Mystics.
- Los Angeles won on the road for the first time against the Mystics since a 70-59 victory on May 31, 2008.

SERIES NOTES AND TEAM CONNECTIONS

- Los Angeles has won its last eight games against the Shock and its last four at STAPLES.
 - The Shock have not won a game at STAPLES since June 18, 2007 when they were the Detroit Shock.
- On August 14, 2010, the Sparks scored 54 points in the first half against the Shock -- one point less than their franchise record 55.
 - Los Angeles nearly matched that on June 21, 2011 vs. New York, scoring 53 before halftime.
- Los Angeles recorded its largest margin of victory (nine) in an overtime game on June 26, 2001 against the Detroit Shock.
- All-time leading scorer Tina Thompson and Tulsa swingman Sheryl Swoopes played 11 seasons together for the Houston Comets (1997-2007)
 - The duo were a significant part of the first four WNBA championships (1997-2000) and are the only two players still playing from the league's inaugural season
 - Thompson played from 1997-2008 with Houston before signing with the Sparks in 2009
 - Swoopes played 1997-2007 in Houston and 2008 with Seattle before taking a two-year hiatus and signing with Tulsa
- In 2010, Sparks reserve guard Natasha Lacy started three games for the Shock during her rookie season, making 16 total appearances.
- Tulsa guard Betty Lennox suited up for the Sparks in 2009 and 2010 before signing as a free agent with the Shock midway through this season.
- Former Spark Andrea Riley was traded to the Tulsa Shock in exchange for a 2012 second-round pick
 - Riley was drafted by the Sparks as the eighth overall pick in 2010, averaging 3.4 points and one assist in 7.7 minutes a game last year.

- Sparks forward LaToya Pringle and Shock guard Ivory Latta were teammates for three years at North Carolina, leading the Tarheels to consecutive Final Fours in 2006 and 2007
- Sparks swing player Jenna O’Hea and Tulsa center Liz Cambage have been teammates with both the Australian National Team and the Bulleen Melbourne Boomers.
- The Sparks-Shock series has been quite the battle:
 - On July 25, Kristi Toliver scored 25 points, including a clutch 3-pointer with 19.7 seconds left, to help lift the Los Angeles Sparks to a 79-74 win over the Tulsa Shock on Friday night. The Shock grabbed the lead late in the first period and held it until Toliver hit from long range late in the fourth. The Shock built a 55-37 lead in the second period but suffered through a 4 1/2-minute scoring drought in the final quarter to drop their eighth straight.
 - On August 9, L.A. opened the game on a 16-5 run but saw that lead gradually diminish. With 8:48 left in the third, Tulsa would take the lead. There would be eight lead changes and three ties before the Sparks would pull away and win 71-66.
 - On August 21, Parker scored 16 of her 23 points after halftime while the Sparks strung together a 16-0 run to overcome a 15-point, second-half deficit.

LAST TIME VS. TULSA – AUGUST 21, 2011

TULSA, Okla. (AP) Candace Parker's big second half sent the Tulsa Shock to the longest losing streak in WNBA history.

Parker scored 16 of her 23 points after halftime, and the Los Angeles Sparks ran off 16 straight points to overcome a 15-point, second-half deficit and hand the Shock their 18th consecutive loss, 73-67 on Sunday night.

The Atlanta Dream lost 17 in a row in their inaugural season of 2008.

“We weren't happy with the way we played in the first half,” Parker said. “I won't say it was jet lag, because we played with more energy in the second half. We just didn't play well. We need to come out with defensive intensity to match our intensity on offense.”

DeLisha Milton-Jones added 15 points and Kristi Toliver had 14 for the Sparks. WNBA career scoring leader Tina Thompson scored all of her eight points in the second half.

Parker attempted just six shots in the first half but heated up after intermission, driving to the lane with ease. The former Tennessee star combined with Thompson for 17 third-quarter points and keyed a 16-0 run that lasted into the final period.

For the first 22 minutes of the game, Tulsa took advantage of the jet-lagged Sparks, who played in Minnesota on Saturday and flew to Tulsa on Sunday, building a 39-24 lead with 7:01 to play in the third stanza.

Sheryl Swoopes and Jennifer Lacy combined to go 9 of 11 from the field in the first half, but neither was much of a factor after intermission. Swoopes finished with 17 points, her most since she scored 17 against Phoenix on June 11, 2008.

But the Sparks outscored the home team 38-20 over the final 17 minutes to post just their fourth road victory of the season.

IN GOOD COMPANY

The Sparks lineup is filled with some all-time WNBA leaders in career points. Tina Thompson, the only player to have played all 14 previous seasons, tops the list with 6,687 points. Sparks forward DeLisha Milton-Jones comes in at 10th with 4,775 total points.

Guard Ticha Penicheiro ranks first in all-time assists (2,508) and second in steals (743). The Portugal native is in her 14th WNBA season.

DMJ's MILESTONES

- On August 21, DeLisha Milton-Jones moved into ninth place of the WNBA all-time scoring list (4,775).
- DeLisha Milton-Jones recently passed Mwadi Mabika for second all-time on the Sparks career scoring list (3,558)
- DMJ also passed Yolanda Griffith this season for fifth-most steals in WNBA history (542)

CLOSE CALLS

Fourteen of the Sparks' last 17 games have been decided by 10 or fewer points, with Los Angeles going 8-9 over that span and winning their last three tight games (vs. Indiana, at Tulsa and at Washington). Eight of those games have been at STAPLES Center, where things have been incredibly tight, decided by an average of 5.9 points per tilt and the Sparks going 3-5.

WELL REPRESENTED ON ALL-TIME LIST

At halftime of the July 23 All-Star Game in San Antonio the WNBA unveiled its Top-15 Players of all-time, and among the honorees are four Sparks: Lisa Leslie, Tina Thompson, Ticha Penicheiro and Teresa Weatherspoon. Four other players who have donned the purple, gold and teal – Chamique Holdsclaw, DeLisha Milton-Jones, Taj McWilliams-Franklin and Candace Parker – were included in the group of 30 nominees, giving the Sparks more representatives than any other WNBA team.

UP NEXT

This Sunday, Aug. 28, the Sparks will play their first of two straight games against the defending champion Seattle Storm. Tip-off is set 7:30 p.m. PT with national coverage on ESPN2.

SPARKS SEASON NOTES

- On July 17 vs. Washington, the Sparks held their opponent to 25 first-half points for the second time this season
 - On June 19 the Sparks also held the Seattle Storm to 25 points
- By going 21-for-21 from the charity stripe on July 17, the Sparks set a new franchise record for made free-throws in a game without a miss
 - LA's previous best was 15-for-15 achieved on several occasions, most recently against the Seattle Storm on August 21, 2010
 - Kristi Toliver recorded a career-high in free throws made and attempted by going 8-for-8 from the line
 - On July 28, the Sparks made 10+ FT's without a miss for the second time this season
- The Sparks' 43 rebounds on July 12 at San Antonio were a season-high
 - On August 20, the Sparks recorded a season-low 24 rebounds against Chicago
- The Sparks lead all WNBA teams in three-point field goal percentage (.412), third in assists per game (18.29) and third in field goal percentage (.450)
- The Sparks are on pace to shatter the franchise record for three-point field goal percentage in a season
 - The current record is .379, set in 2004 (157/414)
- Los Angeles features three of the WNBA's nine most accurate three-point shooters
 - Jenna O'Hea ranks second at .456 while Noelle Quinn sits in fourth place with .449 and Kristi Toliver comes in at ninth with .414
- Sparks rookie Jantel Lavender has totaled 31 points and 11 rebounds in two games against the Storm
- Lavender's 25 points and 10 boards on August 12 against Phoenix are the best single-game totals by a Sparks rookie since Candace Parker in 2008
- On July 9, Tina Thompson came off the bench for just the second time in her WNBA career (previously on July 17, 2008 while with Houston)
 - She has started 424 of her WNBA-record 426 regular season games
 - On July 18, Thompson was held scoreless for the first time in her career
- Guard Kristi Toliver has already notched double-digit scoring totals twelve times this season
 - Last season, Toliver scored in double-figures on 12 different occasions
 - Her 28 point performance on June 26 set a new personal best
 - Toliver's eight assists on July 12 established a new career-high
- Ebony Hoffman had her best game as a Spark on July 26, scoring 24 points on 10-for-11 shooting vs. Minnesota
 - It was her highest scoring total since a 24-point outburst vs. Lynx on Aug. 13, 2009 while a member of the Indiana Fever
- Milton-Jones saw her streak of 37 consecutive made free-throws dating back to last season end on July 5 in Phoenix
 - Lisa Leslie sank a team-record 46 consecutive free throws (7/9-7/25/2000)
 - The WNBA record (66) was set by Cleveland Rockers forward Eva Nemcova (06/14/1999 - 06/05/2000)
- Ticha Penicheiro's 23 points on August 9 against Tulsa were her most since also scoring 23 on June 6, 2002 while a member of the Sacramento Monarchs.
 - Penicheiro is 12-for-23 from beyond the arc in 2011, after making only 2-of-18 three-pointers over the past two seasons combined
- Natasha Lacy's 14 points against San Antonio on July 18 were her most as a Spark
 - She ranks fourth in the WNBA in steals per 40 minutes (3.1)
- With 19,376 votes, Candace Parker was selected as a Western Conference starter for the 2011 WNBA All-Star Game, but missed the game due to injury
- The Sparks are the only WNBA team to have two rookies notch double-doubles this season
 - On August 12, center Jantel Lavender's 25 points and 10 rebounds gave the Cleveland native her first WNBA double-dip
 - Guard/forward Jenna O'Hea buried four shots from beyond the arc and established a new career-high in and total rebounds (11) while notching her first double-double on July 18

HEAD COACH JOE BRYANT

Joe “Jellybean” Bryant is in his second tour of duty as a member of the Sparks’ coaching staff, and assumed head coaching responsibilities on July 10 for the remainder of the 2011 season. He is the winningest head coach in Sparks history with a 37-19 (.660) career record.

Bryant first joined the Sparks in 2005 as an assistant coach, and was promoted to head coach over the final five games of that campaign. He made an immediate impact as the team posted a 4-1 record over that span and qualified for the Western Conference Semifinals.

The following year, Los Angeles finished atop the Western Conference at 25-9 – the second-best record in the league – and reached the Conference Finals. Bryant was at the helm of the Sparks as Lisa Leslie earned her third and final WNBA MVP award in 2006.

Before returning to Los Angeles prior to the 2011 season, Bryant served as head coach of Raru Kamuy Hokkaido, a Japanese first division men’s team, and taught at a private basketball academy in Japan. Since 2006 he’s also held head coaching positions with the Tokyo Apache and Italy’s Sebastiani Rieti. Bryant’s coaching experience began as an assistant coach at his alma mater, LaSalle University in 1993, and continued with head coaching positions in the American Basketball Association (Las Vegas Rattlers and Boston Frenzy) and in the Slamball league.

In 1975, Bryant was the 14th overall selection in the NBA Draft by Golden State Warriors and was traded before the season to his hometown Philadelphia 76ers, where he played three seasons. Bryant headed back to the West Coast when he was traded by the 76ers to the San Diego Clippers, for whom he played from 1980-82. After a final NBA season with the Houston Rockets in 1983, Bryant continued his career in Italy for eight years in both the A1 and A2 Leagues.

Bryant and his wife Pam have two daughters, Sharia and Shayla, while their son Kobe has led the Los Angeles Lakers to five NBA Championships in his 15-year NBA career.

ASSISTANT COACH SANDY BRONDELLO

A fresh face on the Sparks’ coaching staff is Sandy Brondello, who boasts 11 total years of WNBA experience as a player and coach and has also competed internationally at the highest levels.

Brondello comes to Los Angeles after serving as the San Antonio Silver Stars’ head coach in 2010, guiding them to a Western Conference Semifinal berth. Previously she served as an assistant in San Antonio for five years (2005-2009), helping the team earn its first Western Conference Championship and trip to the WNBA Finals in 2008.

A WNBA veteran, she played five seasons with the Seattle Storm (2003), Miami Sol (2001-02) and the Detroit Shock (1998-99), averaging 11.4 points and 2.3 assists in 155 career games. Brondello played in the inaugural WNBA All-Star Game in 1999, and ranks fourth in league history with her 41.0% career three-point percentage.

The native Australian played for the Australia National Team for 18 years and is a four-time Olympian. She is a two-time silver medalist (2000 and 2004) and took home a bronze medal at the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta. She also represented Australia at the 1988 Olympics, while in 1992 Brondello was named the Australian International Player of the Year. She helped Australia bring home the bronze medal from both the 1998 and 2002 FIBA World Championships and also competed at the 1994 and 1990 World Championships and the 1990 Goodwill Games.

Prior to playing in the WNBA, Brondello played in the Women’s National Basketball League (WNBL) in Australia from 1986-96, earning league MVP acclaim in 1995. She also played in Germany for BTV Wuppertal from 1992-2002, helping the team win 10 German Cup Championships. In 1996, Brondello was named the European Cup MVP after leading Wuppertal to the European Cup title and earned three European Cup All-Star selections 1994, 1996 and 1997.

Brondello earned a degree in teaching from the University of Western Sydney in 1990. She and Lange have a four-year-old son, Brody Max Lange, and welcomed Jayda Grace Lange to their family on May 31, 2010.
